

AJM GROUP

Report - Anti-Competitive and Restrictive Trade Practices

Definition:

Restrictive trade practice is a business or trade that may prevent, distort or restrict competition unfairly.

Example:

Organization A introduces a product that is lower than the cost to build it (by absorbing the actual cost using another business) and prevents Organization B from entering the market fairly is said to be engaging in anti-competitive and restrictive trade practices.

Requirements:

- You shall promote free and fair competition, and shall not engage in anti-competitive or restrictive trade practices.